Rental discrimination occurs when a landlord refuses to lease to a prospective tenant based on their acceptance of rental assistance or voucher programs, such as those through Section 8 and Housing First.

1

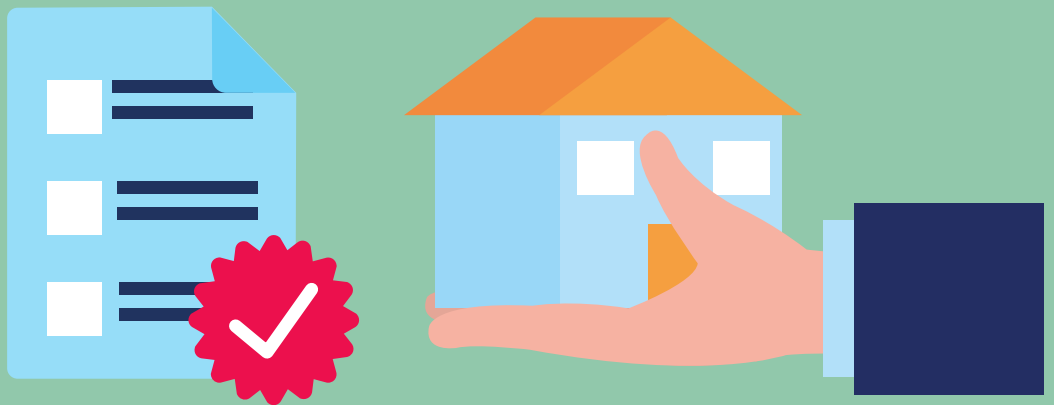

Voucher Households Nationwide are Protected

Nationwide, only 1 in 3 voucher households are protected by non-discrimination laws. Until Hawaii implements this law, none of our voucher households are protected. ²

Proposed anti-discrimination Legislative bills can help HI's most vulnerable people gain better access to obtaining and renting a home.

SB36

Passage of proposed legislation aimed at preventing this type of discrimination would allow those with housing vouchers or other governmental rental assistance to have expanded opportunities to obtain stable housing.
